

Job Title: Sessional Lecturer in Dance - Ref SLD

Salary: Hourly rate based on £23.3k - £29.5k per annum

Contract: Sessional, hourly paid

Location: Clarendon campus

The Faculty of Music, Performance and Fashion is a vibrant and successful learning environment that offers students the opportunity to study a wide range of creative subjects from levels 1 to 6. The environment is friendly and supportive with excellent teaching, and good classroom facilities.

In this role you will share in the teaching, curriculum innovation and management of students across a range of Dance courses and Dance related subject areas. We are particularly interested in applicants with skills in developing the following: Urban/Street Dance and/or Contemporary Dance, and have the ability to deliver to learners on our level 3 and undergraduate programmes.

We are looking to recruit high performing, inspiring individuals with the vision, talent and passion to join this successful and committed team to deliver outstanding provision within the Faculty. We believe that Nottingham College has the capacity to make a major contribution to transforming the future prospects of our City, County and Region and we seek to position ourselves at the heart of partnership strategies to deliver economic growth, business formation and employment outcomes.

For further details on this post which the job description and person specification cannot answer for you, please contact Michelle Lloyd on 0115 8380140.

The closing date for this post is Sunday 22nd October 2017.

The interview date will be Monday 30th October 2017.

Apply online at www.ncn.ac.uk/vacancies.

In this area we are currently under-represented in terms of staff from ethnic minority backgrounds and those with disabilities. In order to work towards matching our staff profile to that of our diverse student community, applications are particularly welcomed from such applicants. All applications will be treated on merit.